Four Engagements

Seminar Facilitators

Frank Fromherz has served as a college professor and justice & peace organizer since 1978. He earned his Ph.D. in Religion & Society/Social Ethics from the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, California.

Serenity Madrone graduated from Portland State University with her BA in Community Development. She currently works as a Program Coordinator with the Council for the Homeless in Clark County, Washington.

Our mission is to enhance the knowledge and practice of justice among individuals and institutions locally and globally.

To achieve this mission, we engage people in a unique and integrative process of contemplation, social analysis, and social action.

All three steps (contemplation, analysis, and action) inform our current projects.

Learning Seminars

Militarism Learning Seminars

Militarism. What does it mean to you? What actions can you take to confront militarism?

Join us in a seminar where we explore the roots, early and current history of militarism, and the major components of the military industrial complex.

The seminar will allow all of us to learn from and teach each other about this perplexing issue. We will discuss the meanings of circulating power elites, empires, gender, and racial issues. Subjects relating to globalization, economics, politics and environmental impact will also be covered.

In the last week we will seek root solutions of militarism and possible actions.

WHEN

6pm-8pm on the following dates:
9/14, 9/28, 10/12, 10/26 & 11/9/2011

COST

$100 for the five-part series

A limited number of scholarships are available to Veterans and Service Members

Four Engagements on the Way to Global Justice Learning Seminars

How can we more effectively go about working for justice, both locally and on a vast scale? The Pacific Center for Global Justice is offering this four-month series as a way to provide a grounded and well-informed foundation for social justice work.

We will engage this important topic as community of learning, drawing from the insights and sharing of both facilitators and participants alike. The first three sessions will each focus on an element of the Pacific Center's approach (contemplation, analysis, and action), with the final session seeking to integrate all elements.

WHEN

4pm-7pm on the following dates:
9/8, 10/13, 11/10 & 12/8/2011

COST

$120 for the four-part series

A limited number of scholarships are available to Veterans and Service Members

To register: Include this payment slip with your check or money order made out to "Pacific Center for Global Justice," and send to:
